outstanding provider

When you join the Transform Initial Teacher Training programme you will be part of something special. In partnership with Inspiring Leaders SCITT and our member schools, we have created a supportive, nurturing programme that treats you as one of the team from day one.

You will be joining a professional learning community of over 1000 staff, teaching 6000 children across 20 Nottingham & Derby schools.

You will have access to a range of resources and specialist support that will help shape your professional practice and ensure you are classroom ready by the end of your training year.

“  It really is great to attend network meetings where I can gain and share ideas and resources that I can take back to my own classroom. #sharedlearning ”

I chose transform after a lot of research into various teacher training programmes and because it was recommended to me.

I felt that the Transform programme was the best fit for me returning to study as a mature student!

I liked the idea of being immersed in a school for the period of the year and thought it would set me up best for working in a school long term.

I felt part of the school from the very start, it provided me with a good understanding of what being a class teacher entailed.

By the end I felt much more confident in teaching a class on my own and felt ready and able to set up my own classroom.

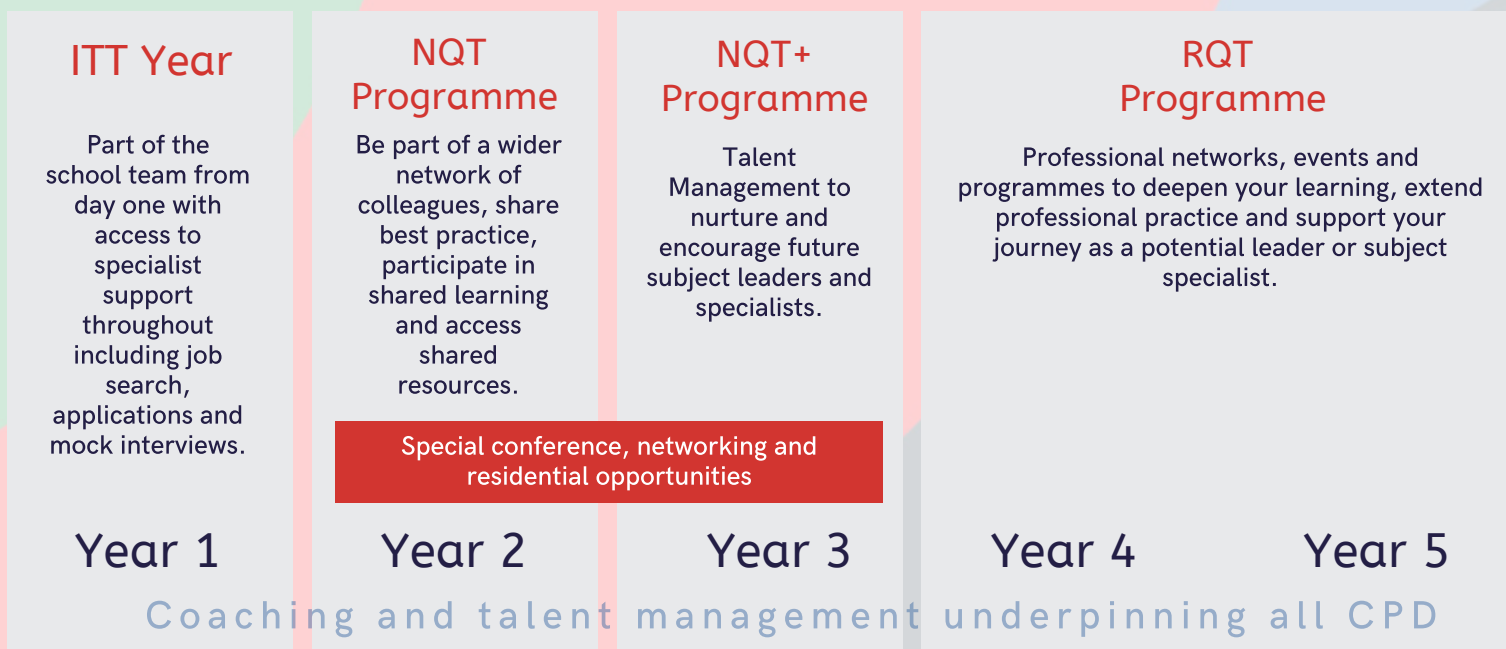

I have been able to access the NQT and NQT+ programmes, which have been beneficial. They have given me lots of strategies to use within the classroom and my wider teaching career.

They have also provided that continued network of meeting with other teachers from other schools - great for sharing ideas and also supporting each other through the ups and downs.

The specialist support you receive during your training continues into your first year of teaching and beyond, if you join a school within the Transform Trust & Teaching School Alliance. We have illustrated this journey below:

“ The best part of the year for me was being a teacher in my own class. I was able to start teaching in my first week in school. ”

I chose Transform for my teacher training as I was working at a Teaching Assistant in a school within the Teaching School Alliance and it was recommended to me by colleagues.

I was anxious about starting the programme, but thanks to the excellent induction this was overcome. Meeting peers and the lead practitioners was reassuring.

My base-school was extremely welcoming and I was instantly made to feel like one of the team. In addition to my sessions at university, I had the opportunity to engage in training facilitated by Transform. These experiences added to my knowledge and equipped me with more skills to implement within my classroom practice.

I am fortunate to have gained a post within a Transform school. My CPD experience has been very positive. It is lovely to attend events and be recognised and see a range of colleagues that I know.

Our schools are located in the heart of Nottingham and Derby cities offering a unique range of opportunities to work within diverse and vibrant communities.

You will have the opportunity to work as role models and innovators within our culturally rich schools, transforming the lives of our children and their communities

“  One of the highlights of the course was the mock interview process. This was an experience I believe sets Transform apart. ”

In addition to study at University we dedicate regular time to personal development and enrichment for all of our trainee teachers. Our 'Transform Training Days' are devoted to wider professional skills and competences from personal effectiveness and job search skills, to mock interviews and wellbeing.

These sessions have become a standout aspect of this programme helping to build confidence and capacity beyond classroom practice.

I chose Transform on recommendation from a teacher working in a Transform school, due to the level of support that is given to trainees and wider staff. I found it particularly appealing that I would get the opportunity to teach alongside another trainee and take advice and guidance from a number of colleagues, from peers to specialist practitioners. The programme helped me prepare for my NQT year with practical sessions such as managing workload, how to apply for a job and holding mock interviews, using SMART, behaviour management and the effective use of TAs.

Transform have supported me in my CPD not only in my NQT year with the NQT programme, but also in my NQT+1 year. I have been very fortunate that during my NQT year, I took a particular interest in the use of iPads in the classroom after a Transform session.

This ignited my passion for using iPads to enhance learning and I am now working as the Project Leader in my current school, alongside my IT lead, Business Manager, SLT, Headteacher and Jigsaw to develop an Action Plan to improve our use of iPads to aid teaching and learning in the classroom.

The Transform Initial Teacher Training programme is run in association with the University of Leicester and Nottingham Trent University.

We are a member of the Inspiring Leaders SCITT (School Centred Initial Teacher Training).

Our teacher training is developed and run by expert practitioners within schools and as such offers the very best opportunities to enable you to be classroom ready from day one of your NQT year.

In addition to this, Transform's unique NQT & beyond support ensures your personal and professional development maintains momentum throughout your early career years.

At the end of your training you will receive a PGCE and Qualified Teacher Status along with 60 CATS points towards a masters.
